All.Can is a multi-stakeholder initiative involving patient, clinical, academic and industry experts as well as policymakers. We aim to help define better solutions for sustainable cancer care and improve patient outcomes in the future. The All.Can initiative is made possible with financial support from Bristol Myers Squibb (main sponsor), Roche (major sponsor), MSD and Johnson & Johnson (sponsors) and Baxter and Illumina (contributors), with additional non-financial (in kind) support from Helspy, Intacare and Goings-On.

5 core messages underpin everything we do

- 1. There is an urgent need, and an opportunity, to improve the efficiency of cancer care.
- 2. Efficiency – and inefficiency – must be defined first and foremost by what matters to patients.

- 3. There are opportunities to improve efficiency across the entire cancer care pathway.
- 4. Focusing on what matters to patients invariably leads to better use of resources.
- 5. The challenges to sustainable cancer care cannot be resolved by any stakeholder group alone.

The All.Can approach to research

- ▶ All stakeholders
- ▶ Entire cancer care pathway
